

The wine list here at Lola has been chosen with the same criteria we work with in the kitchen.

We prefer to work with local and organic products. We select low intervention vineyards instead of industrial, from producers based in Northern Europe rather than wines that have traveled across the globe from the Southern hemisphere.

Some of our wines are made without sulphur, some with. Some are experimental and wild, others are well groomed and easy drinkable. But they all made by people with passion and personal expression.
